MASONS OF NEVADA TO LAY CORNERSTONE FOR TEMPLE IN RENO TODAY

The New Masonic Temple

By ROBERT E. LEWERS

THIS afternoon at 2 o'clock the Masons of Nevada will gather at the site of their new temple and lay the cornerstone of what promises to be one of the finest Masonic Temples in the West. From all over Nevada as well as California and other states Masons are expected to help take part in the ceremonies. This will be one of the most important moves in the history of Masonry in Nevada, and extensive preparations have been made for the event. The new building will cost not less than $75,000 and it is thought that the amount may reach $100,000 before the structure is completed. Quality is the first consideration and expense has not been considered.

From Professor Robert E. Lewers of the State University of Nevada, and one of the best known Masons in the state, the Journal has secured the following article in relation to the new building:

Something like five years ago the members of Reno Lodge No. 13, F. and A. M., began to realize that it was necessary to provide larger and better equipped quarters if the Reno Masons were to keep in touch with progressive ideas.

The lodge was growing rapidly and the various branches of the order required room. The matter of a site was discussed and many were considered. The financial question was carefully weighed and finally a simple course—the noise of the passing trains—urged the lodge to action. So about two years ago the trustees were ordered to purchase the lot at the corner of First and Virginia streets and it was bought for $19,500. The lot is worth somewhat more than that sum at present. Twice and thrice the sum would not buy it. Last spring the lodge empowered its trustees to proceed with the building. A corporation, the Reno Masonic Temple Association, was organized in order that many interested lodges and master Masons might subscribe for stock.

The directors of this company are J. B. McCullough, president, representing the Knights Templar, W. L. Bechtel, vice president, representing the Scottish Rite; Richard Ryland, A. W. Holmes, Robert Lewers, secretary, the last three representing the Blue Lodge.

Meets Death in Seven Events Railroad Yards for Tomorrow

A. Hayes, Trying to Beat Way From Reno to San Francisco, Is Killed at Truckee

A. Hayes, a young man without funds and trying to reach his home in San Francisco, left Reno early yesterday morning and three hours later met with an accident that cost him his life at Truckee.

The trainmen had ordered him from a box car in the mountain town and he was standing on a side track, waiting the approach of another train when the switch engine backed down on him, the wheels passing over his limbs. In an effort to save his life the physician amputated one leg near the hip, but soon afterward the young man died. Nothing that can lead to locating his relations was found upon the clothing. Shortly before his death Hayes stated his home was in San Francisco.

Roping Contest, Two Bicycle Races and Four Horse Races Will Close Week's Meeting

A misunderstanding as to the management of the races resulted in the cancelling of the meeting of the Nevada Jockey Club yesterday. All races were called off. However, the trouble was only temporary and now it is believed everything has again been straightened out and tomorrow afternoon the big meeting will be brought to a proper close with a roping and bronco riding contest, probably two bicycle races and four horse races. The entries will be completed this morning. The card for tomorrow will be the best of the meeting and should result in drawing a big crowd.

The sheets will close this evening and the entries for all the events will be announced in full in the Journal tomorrow morning.

FAIR CO-EDS ARE SCARED BY A GREAT BIG GUN

Girl From Arizona Joining Sorority, Refuses to Sing and Backs Up Her Refusal in True Cowboy Fashion

"Now throw me in the lake!" shouted Miss Bertha Kain to a crowd of co-eds near the girls' cottage at the University of Nevada last Wednesday. Her remarks was backed up by a big wicked looking 44-calibre revolver and she wielded the weapon in such a manner that the young women who were intent upon hazing her lost no time in taking to the "tall uncut," as the street gamins would call it.

Miss Kain is pretty, and feminine—and from Arizona. She arrived some time ago to enter the university and last Wednesday night they started to initiate her. One of the requirements was that she sing a college song. Miss Kain is willing to sing under ordinary circumstances, but she refused Wednesday night.

"All right, girls; then heave to," shouted the leader of the hazers, reported to be a member of the basketball team. The next moment Miss Kain was floundering in the big lake, a rope around her waist. She was pulled out after awhile and again asked to sing. Three times this operation was gone through and then Miss Kain broke away, ran to her room and secured her revolver. She is still unhazed and intends to remain that way.

On the same night the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett attempted to join one of the fraternities. He did not know the college yell and was thrown into the lake. A brand new $30 suit of clothes was ruined as a result and yesterday a committee of students waited upon Mr. and Mrs. Barrett and promised to pay for the suit to avoid further trouble.

Last night some parties, thought to be freshmen, stole the big banner that was to be waved in the front ranks of the sophomores in the cane rush today. The banner was being made by the Porteous Company. Constable Wilson has a John Doe warrant in his pocket and arrests are looked for.

At 10 o'clock this morning the annual cane rush takes place and more trouble is looked for.

Sullivan Had Best of Fight
BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Mike "Twin" Sullivan of Boston and Joe Gans of this city boxed fifteen rounds tonight. Referee O'Hara called it a draw, but it would have been difficult to find a man in the large audience to agree with him. When the going sounded ending the fight Gans was hanging to his opponent, trying to save himself from punishment and a knockout that seemed not far away.

Could This Happen in Reno?
SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 15.—After asking for a free drink of liquor in a saloon and being refused, Timothy McCarthy, a well known character about town, dropped dead in a barroom today.

FIRE AND DEATH THE RESULT OF A FUSE EXPLOSION

Many of the Bodies Are Burned to a Crisp in the Blaze Which Destroys Property Valued at $100,000

A FUSE, Conn., Sept. 15.—The explosion of a fuse, followed by fire in a building of the Climax Fuse Company, caused a panic among twenty employees in the building, the death of seven and injuries that will doubtless prove fatal to several others today.

There was no way of coping with the flames, which soon spread rapidly and in less than an hour after the explosion occurred those unable to escape were in the clutches of the fire that eventually burned their bodies to ashes.

The accepted theory as to the cause of the fire is that in an effort to burn out the stoppage in one of the machines a workman caused an explosion of fuse with a redhot iron which he held in his hand. The loss is $100,000.

Congregationalists by a Big Vote Decide Not to Inquire Into Source of Wealth the Church May Receive From Patrons

SEATTLE, Sept. 15.—By a vote of 46 to 10 the American board of commissioners for foreign missions went on record as being opposed to a further discussion of "tainted money" in any of its phases.

This vote was not taken, however, until the question had been threshed out in all its sides, and the leading Congregationalists of America had voiced their sentiments on the subject.

Dr. Washington Gladden, the leader of the minority, precipitated the discussion by the introduction of a resolution to the effect that the officers of the board should neither invite nor solicit donations to its funds from persons whose gains are generally believed to have been made by methods "morally, indefensible or socially injurious."

Dr. Gladden, who left the platform at the close of the debate, was overwhelmed with congratulations upon the address made by him and the position he had taken.

Tenny Defeats Attel
Special to The Journal.

GOLDFIELD, Sept. 15.—Monty Attel was knocked out in the twenty-fifth round by Harry Tenny here this evening. Tenny fought strong all through the fight and twelve times during the fight sent his antagonist to the mat for the count. Larry Sullivan of Portland refereed the fight.

The men fought for a $2000 purse, which was counted in the ring in the presence of spectators and principals. The fight was a gruelling affair from the start.

Komura Resting Easy
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Baron Komura the Japanese peace envoy, passed a very comfortable day and is resting easier tonight.

GAVE UP HER LIFE TO SAVE HER CHILDREN

Mrs. Bony, While Nursing Two Sons, Ill With Typhoid Fever, Contracts Dread Malady and Passes Away at Her Home in Reno

Mrs. Margaret Bony died at her home, 410 Nevada street, at 10 o'clock last night from typhoid fever, caught while trying to nurse her two sons back to health. One of the children is recovering and the other is at the point of death. Two weeks or more ago the little ones were taken down and Mrs. Bony gave her every thought to them. Soon she contracted the dread malady, but despite this remained at the bedside of her loved ones until a few days ago when she was compelled to take to her bed. She sank rapidly until the end last night.

Mrs. Bony was a native of Ireland, aged 28 years. She was a resident of Reno for fourteen years, a good hard working woman, respected by all who knew her.

Her husband is Victor Bony. Two children also survive her. Reinhard & Co. are in charge of the funeral arrangements, which have not been completed.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE SCHOOL BOOK QUESTION

BOUT this season of the year the average parent of one or more "hopefuls" becomes greatly interested in the school book question. The following from the Nevada City Transcript, although written for Californians, will meet with hearty approval from dwellers on this side of the line:

When a layman attempts to criticize the work of professional educators, his comment is received with such a superior smile that, half the time, he is forced to believe himself in error and ask pardon for his audacity. But the men and women who select the school books are not the sole possessors of acumen in such matters. One out of ten graduates of colleges or normal schools, perhaps, becomes a teacher but it does not follow that the judgment of the remaining nine becomes defective because they do not teach, and it is in evidence all over the country that the nine are making themselves heard.

No reference is had to the grammar schools. In California we now have a state series of books which there is no need to be ashamed of, and fortunately, frequent change is an impossibility. But in the secondary institutions, the private academies as well as the public high schools, constant change is the rule.

The high school pupil is compelled to buy Smith, Jones or Robinson's algebra. Twenty different elementary latin books are forced upon the various districts of the same state. Chemistries of all sorts and a plethora of natural philosophies, rhetorics ad libitum, ancient histories of assorted lengths and worthiness—all these are published year after year, and the unfortunate American father of a family has to pay for them. A high school teacher with a hobby spends his spare time constructing a text book of some kind, while instructors in colleges bring out a fresh volume, or a new edition of an old one, every year, in which, as Pope said of the commentators, they

Each dark passage shun,
And hold their feeble candles to the sun.

In mathematics, for example, wherein is the latest algebra or geometry better than the Bourdon and Legendre that were studied a quarter of a century ago? Wentworth's geometry, which followed the Legendre in California schools was a prettier piece of typographical work, granted, but the Legendre made the pupil think for himself. And after all, Legendre was just Euclid elaborated, as are all the others. The faults of Euclid are patent to those capable of passing upon them, but boys and girls beginning the study are not likely to be worried over defects that half their teachers cannot point out. Nor, in the many algebras that have been published since the Bourdon, with most of which we happen to be familiar, have there been any such striking improvements as to warrant a change.

In Latin elementary works, America is far behind England and the continent. The truth is, that Dr. Arnold's Henry's First Latin Book has, for beginners, never been surpassed by anything that has been issued by the American publishers. Taking up Collar and Daniell's First Latin Book, which is used in this country, we find that the authors claim for it the merit of interesting the pupil at once, but we fail to see why the present-day student should have his ambition any more deeply awakened by knowing that "columba est alba" than Dr. Arnold's beginner, who learned that "Calus puellam laudat." The pupil is not likely to be startled by either statement.

Our American teachers forget that in Germany, where Latin is spoken so freely as to be almost a living language, the gymnasia do not teach it as we do—no languages are taught abroad, indeed, as we try to teach them. The whole American system of instruction in foreign tongues is absurd, starting, as it does, with grammatical forms instead of vivid, meaningful, idiomatic sentences. The grammar must be learned of course, but the pupil ought to know what it all is about before being plunged into linguistic complexities. True, the Latin book of Collar and Daniell is no worse than many others, but it is not so good as the long discarded beginner's book written by Dr. Arnold. His idea was to prepare the pupil to appreciate the beauties of Latin literature. The American idea seems to be that Latin is a mere mental discipline.

The important modifications of the atomic theory due to recent work have resulted in the complete reconstruction of conventional chemistry as taught even so short a time ago as ten years. The old chemistries are worthless, therefore, and the new chemistries are yet to be published. Why not teach orally a few definitions, give the pupils the tables of atomic weight and strength and teach the rest by lectures? So with physics.

It is wrong then, to force pupils to buy text books of chemistry and physics in the present re-formative stage of these studies and, as to Latin and mathematics, in trading old lamps for new we have gained nothing and lost much.

AT a London auction not long ago a letter written by Mary Stuart brought $6,500, a price that beats the record for costly letters, barring a few that have found their way into the divorce courts.—Newark, N. J., Advertiser.

THE new Assistant Secretary of State is said to be deeply interested in polo. The trouble with Loomis was that he was interested in asphalt.

THE announcement is made that James Hazen Hyde will sell his property in the United States and take up his permanent residence in Europe. Ever since Young Hyde came into possession of his father's stock in the Equitable his excesses have been the talk of the country, and there will be no more regret over his loss than when William Waldorf Astor, another degenerate of the same stripe, gave up his birthright of American citizenship, and became a citizen of Great Britain.

BERNARD SHAW tells of "obsequious servility, cupidity aroused by the prevailing smell of money," and says, "when the hand of the millionaire goes down into his pocket our fingers go up to the brim of our hats by instinct. When Mr. Carnegie rattled his millions in his pockets all England became one rapacious cringe." That is a happy turn of expression. Perhaps the "rapacious cringe" is what attacks some of our churches when Rockefeller jingles the money in his pockets.

IT is an opinion of Congressman "Big Tim" Sullivan of New York, much quoted now against municipal ownership, says the Springfield Republican, that with city control of street railways in New York, "Tammany Hall would be in power for 150 years." If he really thought so, Sullivan, would, of course, favor municipal ownership. As he is opposed, it is a fair inference that Tammany finds in the policy of giving out public franchises for private exploitation that fruitfulness of graft and corruption which are so important for the strengthening of its power and the enrichment of its leaders.

McCormick Is a Mixologist

Jack McCormick, who trained Marvin Hart in this city for the Hart-Root fight, has retired from the business of mixing wallops and punches, and has taken up another line of mixing. Advice received from Chicago state that McCormick is now presiding over a well known resort of liquid cheer in Chicago, where he frames up gin rickeys and mint juleps for the thirsty multitudes.

McCormick was in his day a pugilist of some little note. He fought Choyinski and enjoys the distinction of having put Kid McCoy out in one round, although the erstwhile pugilist later fought a draw with McCormick, and again secured a decision over him. McCormick fought many other good men, but now that he is in the heyday of life he is finding that pugilism is a little too strenuous a calling and instead of dodging the medicine ball he will see how nifty he can become handling high balls.

When Hart took on Tommy Ryan for a trainer and sparring partner he took the advice which James J. Jeffries gave him in a room at the Hotel Golden in this city when the former champion lectured the principals in the Hart-Root fight upon how they must fight.

"Get some clever fellow and work with him" was the advice which Jeffries gave to Hart.

And it seems as if the Kentuckian had followed the bolder maker's counsel, for in taking on Tommy Ryan, Hart goes into business with a man who has a very valid claim to a championship title—the middleweight—and a man who has brought out more good men than perhaps any other pugilist living. Ryan is 35 years of age and started his ring career when he was 15. He has fought more than 150 ring battles, which includes contests with all of the best men in the middleweight class, and many in the light heavyweight and heavyweight divisions.

"BRIGADIERS"
ARE COMING

Something Entirely New Promised by Manager Piper, Wednesday Evening

It invariably pays to give the public the best in the theatrical world, at least some managers vie with each other in sticking to this policy, while others depend upon past triumphs and reputation to win further success. Manager Cromwell of "The Brigadiers" company, which is booked for a stay of one night, Wednesday, September 20th, believes in investing money to make money. And without money it is a difficult task to secure talent that's the best to be had.

Mr. Cromwell has spared nothing to bring "The Brigadiers" to a standard of excellence. Everything that appertains to an up to date, clean, wholesome show is to be found in the ranks of "The Brigadiers." The music, scenery, light and stage effects, costumes, novelties, etc., can be favorably compared with any so called pretentious organization on the circuit today.

Those who will attend to the engagement of "The Brigadiers" at McKissick's opera house will get more than their money's worth. Just to listen and gaze upon "The Brigadiers" beauty chorus is worth the price of admission alone. But there are plenty of other things. "A Wise Guy," the farce comedy offering in two acts, for instance. The principal role in this laughable piece is played by Edmund Hayes, a comedian of sterling worth and reputation. He is well and ably supported by an aggregation of fun makers rarely to be found in one troupe.

Tickets are now on sale at Rosenthal & Armanak's.

Beautiful Works of Art

There is now on exhibition in a window on Virginia street, in the Grand Theater block, a display of real works of twentieth century art. One is in the form of a hat—a novel patent leather turban, with its white kid band and white feather pom-pom—it is certainly swell. It is the latest thing out. Another is also a hat—it crowns the head of a beautiful figure in the center of the window—it is one of those new green turbans, of the Tam o' Shanter style, with striking quills to match.

Next to that rests another work of art—also a hat—an elegant white velvet Napoleon, with chiffon trimmings and ostrich pom-poms, to match, of course—it is the culmination of artistic design in millinery art of today. But the greatest novelty—the swan neck wings—are seen on the beautiful creation, champagne in coloring and French flat in design. Its trimmings are a rich brown, and the entire effect is the subject of much favorable comment. The remaining exhibit is also a hat, a French turban of green French felt, encircled with a band of brown spangled novelty, while a beautiful fancy wing sets off the style at the side.

These works of art will remain a few days for the benefit of all Reno ladies.

The exhibition is given under the auspices of Burns & Fisher, the well known milliners.

For an evening's ride, Wieland's Park, fare 5 cents. Heidmann & Co.

Redfern Soon to Retire from Turf

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Arthur Redfern, the lad who rode Ormondale so well, is unfortunately nearing the end of his usefulness. It is unfortunate that this is so, because there is no better rider in America than Redfern and there never was.

He has a head on his shoulders, and he is one of the few jockeys of the American turf whose reputation has always been good. No man ever heard a disgruntled better say that Redfern pulled a horse. Redfern has his failings, but dishonesty is not one of them.

He is too rapidly coming to the end of his usefulness as a rider because he is gaining weight so fast he will soon be too heavy to ride under the American scale. It was thought by many horsemen who count themselves smart that Redfern was too heavy to ride at the beginning of the current year.

When he went to Saratoga it was all but impossible for the lad to get a first class mount. The Sanfords are responsible for his restoration. They put him on Mohawk II in that fast colt's special preliminary and he demonstrated that he had forgotten more than most of his fellow jockeys ever knew by bringing him home in front of a fine field.

Then followed his victories in the special and in the Hopeful on Mohawk II, in the Grand Union on Burgomaster and in the Saratoga Cup on Coughnawaga.

Even if he had not had the Ormondale mount it is probable that Redfern would have won the future. He was engaged to ride Mohawk II, and if Mohawk II had not broken down he would certainly have started. That the Rockton colt could have won the Futurity no one who followed the juvenile form of the Saratoga meeting doubts for a moment.

BIG PARADE A NEW FEATURE

One of the Attractions of the Seibel
Brothers Circus Next Tuesday

The four-footed fun makers comprising Seibel Bros. dog and pony shows, which arrive in this city Tuesday morning for a brief visit, during which two performances will be given by them, are said to be collectively a most remarkable company of animal actors. The show is unlike any other dog and pony show on the road, the difference being in the ring performance.

There is a similarity in the parade, which is said to be one of the handsomest miniature affairs on wheels, but all "sameness" ends there, according to the press agent.

"This show," he says, "is out for a reputation as well as to make money, and we are rapidly acquiring both. A new show—that is a fresh and finished performance, consisting of new and original acts which were never offered by any similar exhibition before, is what is doing the trick."

"All records were broken during a recent seven weeks tour of the south and in the larger cities of Dixie people were turned away at almost every performance and the newspapers are a unit in voting the performance the best ever given in the south."

MADE THE VICTIM OF PRACTICAL JOKE

James May of the Palace saloon spent $9.50 yesterday morning to learn that he had been made the victim of a hoax. A few days previous C. P. Clemmons, the Olinghouse mining man, promised to give Mr. May a blooded hunting dog. The canine was in California, said Mr. Clemmons, but he promised to telegraph and have the dog in Reno by express in time for the opening of the duck season.

"All right," said Mr. May, "You have the dog shipped to me collect and I will pay all charges."

Yesterday morning Mr. Clemmons took a small boy into his confidence and between the two of them they succeeded in securing the worst looking dog in Reno. A crate was then made and afterward arrangements were completed with an accommodating dray driver to take the package to Mr. May and collect $9.50 charged. The plan worked to perfection and Mr. May paid the bill, not even complaining when he opened the crate and discovered his "prize." The dog is now the pet of the Palace.

Easy Money
for Nelson

Battling Nelson yesterday received an offer from an Eastern variety house of $1500 per week for a ten weeks' engagement, or $15,000 for less than three month's work of a few minutes each evening. It is unnecessary to say that the thrifty young man from Denmark accepted the offer and will soon be on his way east to fill the engagement.

From now on Nelson will pick up some very easy money. And as he exhibits a disposition to hang on to what he gets, it looks as if he will acquire more coin of the realm than any of his predecessors in the prize ring. Nelson never spends a cent. He is as tight with his coin as the bark on a tree, and as his manager, one William Nolan, is equally thrifty, it looks as if the dollars which Nelson wins through the fighting game would go into legitimate channels rather than the way which dissipates the fortunes of most prize fighters.

Papa Nelson follows the Battling one about very closely. Since the fight the Dane's paternal ancestor has been with him almost all the time, and his manager, William Nolan, has also been at his elbow a good part of the time. However, these precautions are not particularly necessary as Nelson has never exhibited any inclination to be anything but a good boy.

TWO DECREES ARE ENTERED

Judge Currier Grants Freedom to Two Ill Mated Couples Who Ask for Divorces

Judge Currier's court is becoming quite a popular place for ill assorted couples to air their differences in their suits to secure a dissolution of the ties which bind them man and wife.

Two divorces were granted by the court yesterday and there are many awaiting the court's pleasure. Indeed more divorce proceedings have been brought during the current year than at any period in the past. For the most part, indeed nearly every case, comes from other states. There has been but one Nevada couple divorced during the past few months.

Daniel Regan, who is serving a three year sentence for the killing of his mother in law, Mrs. Hess, is no longer a married man. His wife, Mrs. Clara V. Regan, yesterday was granted a decree of divorce from her husband on the grounds that he had committed a felony. The law does not require a woman to live with a man who has committed a crime coming under this class, and makes it a statutory reason for divorce.

Herbert E. Hall was granted a divorce from his wife, Elizabeth Hall, on the grounds of desertion. The plaintiff was awarded the custody of a minor child, the issue of the union. Mr. Hall, testifying on the stand, stated that he did not know the whereabouts of his wife and had lost all track of her.

Entertained Five Hundred Club
Mrs. J. J. Read entertained the members of the Five Hundred Club at her home on the southside yesterday afternoon. There was a full attendance. This is not the first time Mrs. Read has acted as hostess for the club and yesterday she lived up to the expectations of her guests, for everyone had a good time. During the afternoon choice refreshments were served. In the games Mrs. Sarassen won the first prize while the second prize was awarded to Mrs. C. P. Ferrel.

There will be a special meeting of Nevada Council No. 978, Knights of Columbus, at Harmony hall Sunday evening at 7:30. Business of importance. P. L. FLANIGAN, G. K. J. J. BURKE, Fin. Sec.

Yesterday notices were sent by Constable Pollock to the peace officers at all points east of this city to arrest one Kossuth Vaca, who is wanted here for horse stealing. Vaca stole a horse and buggy belonging to John Evans of Reno last Wednesday. Another horse and buggy was stolen by him and left at the Van Meder ranch, east of this city. The animal is a bay mare and the rig a phaeton. Who owns the horse and buggy is not known. They are being held at the Van Meder ranch until the owner is found.

The horse and buggy belonging to Mr. Evans was left at the Courtland stables and was recognized at once by the proprietor. He refused to let the outfit go until he had communicated with Evans, with the result that the property was recovered by the latter.

Kossuth was arrested here on a charge of vagrancy. He took the horse which he left at the Van Meder ranch to Nance's blacksmith shop and had it shod. He was badly intoxicated at the time and was unable to pay for the work. He was lodged in jail and when he had sobered up asked permission to go and see some friends, who he said would give him money with which to pay his bills. He was allowed to go and has not been seen since. Later it developed that he had stolen the horse and buggy belonging to Mr. Evans.

Vaca is a Mexican cowboy residing in the neighborhood of Golconda. He is about 35 years old, smooth shaven and about five feet six inches in height. When last seen he wore a black suit of clothes and a black felt hat.

An enterprise is on foot among several prominent citizens of Sparks to organize a party of men and proceed to an island in the Pacific ocean known as the Manless Isle, near the New Guinea group, take possession of the island and establish a republic. Herr C. C. Hinz of the Wallstab Hotel has charge of the affair and has already received the names of fifteen men who are desirous of seeking their fortunes in the new land. None but healthy, industrious and able bodied men will be taken.

Manless Isle receives its name from the fact that there are no male inhabitants there. There are three islands in the group. Several years ago the natives of the islands engaged in a fierce struggle in which all the men and boys were slain. Since that time the islands have been inhabited by the remaining female natives and have been under a French protectorate. They were visited by Mr. Hinz about eight months ago and he then conceived the idea of their settlement.

The islands are rich in the resources of nature, abounding in all kinds of tropical fruits and a rich mineral belt. It is the intention of the party to charter a small vessel and make regular trips from the nearest port with such supplies and other necessary articles which cannot be obtained on the islands. It is desired to leave San Francisco some time within the next three months.

Terse Tales of Town

A crazy man from Churchill county was brought to Reno and taken to the asylum late last night.

P. H. Cook, traveling freight agent for the Oregon Short line, was a visitor in Reno yesterday.

Miss Estrel McDonald returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit to the Lewis & Clark exposition at Portland.

C. G. Degman, T. D. Dollings and Charles Kohler were yesterday appointed appraisers of the estate of L. W. Skinner.

William Hebard, the Truckee railroad telegrapher, is in the city looking after his mining interests in the Dogskin district.

Dr. Jacob, who was injured in a runaway accident a week ago yesterday, is rapidly improving and will be out in a few days.

One week from tomorrow the Southern Pacific will run a special excursion to Lake Tahoe. The excursion will be the last of the season.

A freight wreck at Yuba Pass, seventy-five miles west of Reno, delayed through traffic on the Southern Pacific for several hours yesterday.

George Berry, who was here on a visit to old friends, left last evening for San Francisco, in response to a telegram calling him to the bay on union business.

SOCIAL DANCE WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT

Tonight the Good Time Club will entertain in Robinson's hall with its regular weekly social dance. Great preparations are being made to insure the success of the event. The floor has been placed in first class condition. Kroll's orchestra of Reno has been engaged to furnish the music for the occasion.

During the evening refreshments will be served by the ladies auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. All who are desirous of spending a pleasant evening will do well to attend.

ASSOCIATING WANTS MORE NEW MEMBERS

A meeting of the committee of the Reno Free Public Lecture Association was held last evening to discuss plans for the approaching series of free lectures. The association already has a membership of 175. The aim is to secure 350 members. This would insure an income of $700 per year, an amount sufficient to bring some of the best speakers in the country to Reno. The membership fee is $2 per year. New members are needed. Send your application, with the fee of $2, to Dr. Cushman, the University of Nevada.

LIKE WOLF THINKS HE HAS A MILLION

Ike Wolf, a devotee of the green cloth, who lost his reason a few days ago at Tonopah, was brought to Reno yesterday and taken by friends to a California sanitarium last night. Mr. Wolf formerly resided in Reno and is well known among the knights of the green cloth.

He has a particularly varied collection of hallucinations. He called at the Journal office yesterday and announced that he was going to pull off a great fistic carnival in this city, in which all the stellar lights of pugilism would participate, in fact he was going to have all the people in the world come to Reno to witness the scraps. He also stated that he had just pulled off a mining deal which had profited him several million and that he was going to give his friend, Artie Langman, enough money to buy a steam yacht and a string of fast race horses.

Wolf's condition is such that his friends believe that with proper care at a sanitarium that his reason will be restored.

PORTLAND, Sept. 15—Performing so far as is known an unprecedented feat in following a course several miles in length, mapped out three days in advance, Captain Baldwin's airship, the City of Portland, traversed the prescribed route from the Lewis and Clark fair grounds to a point over the business section of Portland and returned to the fair grounds.

The flight attended by almost a complete suspension of business pursuits, the people blocking the streets, temporarily blocking the cars until traffic was suspended.

The airship traveled seven miles and was in the air 37 minutes, eight of which were consumed with evolutions demonstrating the craft's dirigibility.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 16—A private dispatch from Tiflis says that there was firing last night at various points in the Baku district and there were many skirmishes resulting in considerable loss of life.

The situation, the dispatch says, is alarming and there is a great uneasiness among the Tartars.

A prominent journalist at Baku has been killed by the Tartars, who are conducting a crusade against the newspapermen.

Stains on Dressing Cases

Are generally made by perfume or a medicine having alcohol for a body. A few drops of any of these substances on the varnished wood melts the varnish, which then comes off on the cover. A piece of rubber, if placed under the scarf will protect the wood and prevent any discoloration from these causes.

Lighting a Fire.

When the chimney is cold it is often difficult to light a fire without making a great deal of smoke. To prevent this, burn a few pieces of paper in the chimney or smoke flue and thus start an upward current. The fire will then burn without any more trouble.

Bunkers Admits Perjury

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15—The Emmons bribery trial continued to be a drawing card in the superior court today. According to Bunkers' statement today, his testimony at his trial had been variegated, where he thought the truth would do him good he told it and where he thought it would do him harm he had testified falsely.

On the redirect examination Bunkers told the district attorney that he had been promised no immunity if he would testify to the truth.

TAKEN BACK TO FACE A CRIME

Sheriff Lamb Takes Ed Spencer to Winnemucca on a Charge of Grand Larceny

Edward Spencer of Winnemucca was arrested yesterday morning by Constable Wilson on train No. 3 and was taken back to Winnemucca last night by Sheriff Lamb of Humboldt county, where he will face a charge of grand larceny.

It is alleged that Spencer stole two watches and a gold bracelet from a resident of the tenderloin district in Winnemucca. When Constable Wilson arrested him on the train yesterday morning he had the woman's watch in his possession, but had disposed of the second watch and the bracelet. Spencer made his getaway from Winnemucca after stealing the jewelry. The owner promptly notified Sheriff Lamb and as Spencer was headed Renoward he promptly wired the authorities here.

Constable Wilson placed Spencer in charge of Harry Dolholm, after taking as security a $200 diamond and a watch. During the night Spencer and his keeper got into a jam and the discussion ended in Spencer accusing Dolholm of stealing $20 from him while he was playing faro bank. Dolholm was later arrested and when tried he was convicted of petty larceny and presented with a fifty-day jail sentence.

Spencer told a number of conflicting stories here regarding the alleged crime for which he was taken back to Winnemucca, and it is quite likely that Constable Wilson and one or two of the police officers will be subpoenaed to testify at the Humboldt county seat.

THEY ARRIVED YESTERDAY

Will be on Exhibition This Forenoon—Will Go to the Owner This Afternoon

The two beautiful cabinet grand "Fischers"—duplicates of the elegant large Fischer piano sold to Mrs. Sauer, of the Reno conservatory, last week—duplicated for R. E. Gibson and Mrs. Torreyson, vocalist, have arrived, accompanied by a magnificent "Steck," sold to and ordered by a prominent business man and banker here—which is to be a surprise to his wife, therefore name not mentioned at this time—have arrived, and will be on exhibition at our store this forenoon.

These are certainly three of the most carefully selected and finest high-grade pianos ever shipped out of the house of Kohler & Chase, of San Francisco, and will be a "treat"—both in tone and beauty to those who call and inspect them.

General agent for Kohler & Chase,

RECEPTIONS TO THE STUDENTS

Delta Rho and Congregational Church Extend Welcome to Young Strangers

The reception at the Congregational church last evening tendered to the students, faculty and public in general by the Ladies' Aid Society was a success in every particular. The church basement was crowded with both young and old people and all had a good time. The program in itself was an enjoyable feature, every number being replete with interest. During the evening refreshments were served by the young ladies.

At Kindergarten hall the members of the Delta Rho sorority also held a reception in honor of the new co-eds as well as the lady members of the faculty. A large crowd was present and an excellent program was rendered. Refreshments were also served.

The beautiful window exhibition in the Grand Theater building has an attractive glass framed sign in the center, which reads "Burns & Fisher"—they are the milliners, you know.

NEVADA WILL WIN THE SUIT

Paper Mill Company Will Lose, in Opinion of Attorney-General Sweeney

Attorney General James Sweeney arrived in town from Carson yesterday. Mr. Sweeney is on his way to San Francisco. The taking of evidence in the suit of Nevada against the Floriston Pulp and Paper Company comes up in San Francisco next week. Mr. Sweeney goes to protect Nevada's interests in the important case.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Mr. Sweeney last night, "but Nevada will win this suit and clear the Truckee river of deleterious matter. Even now the state has a temporary injunction against the paper company and refuse matter instead of being dumped into the stream is turned to one side."

ROAD GOING TO GARDNERVILLE

Virginia & Truckee Let Contract for Extension Yesterday and Work Starts Monday

The Virginia and Truckee railroad yesterday morning closed a contract for the construction of eighteen miles of railroad from Carson through Carson Valley, and to Gardnerville, the ultimate end being Sacramento or tide-water. The names of the contractors are not announced.

Superintendent Yerlinton yesterday stated that work on the first stretch of eighteen miles will begin next Monday morning. From that time on it will continue until the road is completed into Sacramento. This line was planned soon after it became apparent that the Southern Pacific was to build the Hazen cut off, now in operation.

Today is the day that Mrs. D. Sullivan specially invites the ladies to inspect her complete line of stylish hats, turbans and millinery just arrived from the city. Newest shapes in the latest colorings, trimmed by an expert of long experience from the east. 1611

DEATH MAKES SUDDEN CALL

John M. Cook Found Dead in His Bed in His Apartments Yesterday Morning

As the result of an attack of heart trouble death claimed John M. Cook, in the small hours of the night yesterday, while in bed in his apartments at the Clough & Crosby building. Death came suddenly and with but little warning.

Mr. Cook, the night before, complained of feeling badly and when he retired he was quite ill, but fell into a slumber from which he never awoke. When Mrs. Cook awoke yesterday morning she found the lifeless form of her husband, cold in death.

The deceased was a well known resident of this city, having been a familiar figure in this city for many years. He first came to Nevada thirty years ago and has been in and out of the city for many years. After an absence of several years he returned to Reno in 1903 and resided here since that time with his wife.

Mr. Cook is survived by his wife, his sister, Mrs. A. G. Fletcher, and a stepson, Irvin Foster. He was born in Maine fifty years ago. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon from the home of A. G. Fletcher, 501 Lake street. The body will be at Reinhardt's undertaking parlors until 10 o'clock, when the body will be removed to the Fletcher home.

WANTS TO GET OUT OF JAIL

Piano Player Sentenced for Vagrancy Applies to Court for Writ of Habeas Corpus

Arthur Montigo, a piano player, who was arrested some time ago and given a jail sentence for being a vagrant, wants to get out of jail.

He yesterday applied to Judge Currier for a writ of habeas corpus, that he may secure his release. In his application for the writ, which will be heard by Judge Currier this morning at 9 o'clock, Montigo declares that he is held without warrant of law and that the proceedings against him are illegal and should be set aside by the court, and an order made for his release.

Montigo was arrested on the 7th of September and given a fifty-day jail sentence by Judge Pollock, who was acting for Judge Richardson, who was absent from the city. The defendant is alleged to have been a habitue of a resort in the Tenderloin district known as the "Cottage," and the officers who placed him under arrest claim that he had no visible means of support.

In his petition for a writ of habeas corpus Montigo alleges that Judge Pollock had no authority to set in the place of Judge Richardson and that his sentence was therefore illegal.

City Attorney Stoddard stated yesterday that under the statute the mayor or acting mayor could designate any one to act as judge of the police court during the absence of the regularly qualified judge. That in the particular instance where Judge Pollock sat for Judge Richardson, that an order had been made in writing by Acting Mayor N. E. Wilson, appointing Judge Pollock to act in the absent judge's place.

ESTABLISHED 1860

FOUND AFTER MANY YEARS

Patent Issued in 1869 by Government Located in Wrong Apartment in 1905

Colonel Maxson yesterday received a patent from the government office at Washington issued in 1869 and bearing the signature of U. S. Grant, then president of the United States. The document was issued to C. H. Light and A. H. Emanuel for the Badger Hill mining property in Churchill county. These gentlemen paid all charges for the patent, but despite this it was not until yesterday that the documents were received, more than thirty-five years after the title was granted.

In the meantime the property has passed through several owners and each one has tried to secure the papers. The authorities claimed the patent had been lost. A month or two ago, through the efforts of Mr. Maxson the old age worn document was finally uncovered in the wrong department of one of the pigeon holes in the land office.

Chilcoat..

An Opportunity For Investors...

Chilcoat is located at the Western end of the proposed Beckwith Pass Tunnel on the line of the Western Pacific Railroad, in Plumas county, California. The property consists of 1840 acres of land with two-story frame hotel building; stone store building; two warehouses; good one and one half story cottage, and includes a two-thirds interest in the town site of Chilcoat, now being laid out by the Western Pacific Railroad Company, where it is expected the Company will put in division headquarters, shops and roundhouse.

The Town of Chilcoat

Comprises 80 acres, is well laid out, staked and platted by the Railroad Company, which takes full charge of the sale of the lots. The town site alone is worth $10,000 as a speculation. Property along the line of the railroad is bound to increase in value remarkably as soon as construction work begins.

The improvements on the property are all in good condition and are worth from $7,000 to $10,000. There is also a stock of merchandise highway to Sierra Valley and enjoy a good patronage. The land is a deep, rich sage brush loam; is worth from $6.00 to $10.00 per acre, and controls all the water in the adjoining mountains.

This is the best opportunity for a LEGITIMATE SPECULATION we have heard of for many months. Full particulars, including maps, photographs, price and reasons for selling on application.

NEW TEMPLE FOR NEVADA MASONS

Cornerstone for Handsome Structure Will Be Laid With Impressive Ceremonies Today

Sketches of buildings were asked for and many excellent ones were submitted. The sketch submitted by Henry P. Starbuck was selected on account of its well arranged Masonic floor working plans. It is interesting to note that Mr. Starbuck has drawn the plans for Masonic buildings at Santa Rosa, Pasadena, Long Beach, Longport and Palo Alto. It is also worthy of note that this seems to be a year of building activity among the Masons, for in addition to those enumerated, several large Masonic structures are going up in San Francisco, as well as one in Berkeley and one in Vallejo.

The Reno building will front 140 feet on Virginia street and is 100 feet deep. It will have five stories to rent and there are nine offices on the second floor. The Blue Lodge room is on the north side of this floor, and will be sixty-feet long by thirty-eight feet wide, in the main part. Two side galleries of ten feet each will make its total width fifty-eight feet. The ceiling will be twenty-four feet high. Its finish will be Oregon pine, natural, and the furniture will be built in solid. The upper lodge room will be the same size as the lower one, but has no side galleries. An additional lodge room, or chapel, is attached to it and also various rooms required by the mysteries of the order. This upper lodge room will be finished in redwood.

An armory equipped with lockers is provided for regalia and a large attic may be furnished as a drill room or large banquet hall. The regular banquet hall on the third floor is to have a maple floor which may be used for dancing. An up to date kitchen will be connected with the banquet hall.

A few words will not suffice to describe the many excellent features of the building. We might say that going into the details we find a minor convenience, but an important one, in each hall and that is a speaking tube, from the tier's desk to the presiding officer's station.

The corner stone will be laid by the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Nevada, under the immediate direction of its grand master, Charles A. Beemer of Sparks. De Witt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar, R. S. Meachem Commandery will assist the grand lodge.

The corner stone is a massive granite block, three feet square, and will be the base of one of the columns supporting the building.

FOLLOWED LAW TO THE LETTER

Attorney General States That Warden Acted Wisely in Discharging Mutinous Guards

There is considerable discussion among the guards who lost their positions at the penitentiary for refusing to obey orders as to who should perform the duty of hanging prisoners sentenced to death.

C. H. Stone, one of the discharged guards, states that the duty is clearly that of the warden. Stone was assigned to cut one of the strings and for disobeying orders was promptly ordered to quit. Stone in an interview intimates that affairs at the prison are controlled by a ring of which he was not a member.

Warden Considine has been ill at the prison since a few days after the execution of Hancock. The Journal, by phone, interviewed Mr. Considine last evening. He did not deem the allegations of Stone or of the discharged guards of enough importance to warrant a reply. He spent considerable time and went to much personal expense in preparing for the execution of Hancock and studying the law under which the task was to be performed.

Attorney General James Sweeney, who was in Reno yesterday, stated that Mr. Considine acted as the law provides and acted as a disciplinarian should in promptly discharging the guards who mutinied when commanded to do their duty.
